Electronic Copyboard - Copies written information

Do away with the pencils, paper and frantically scribbled notes. The new Economy PC Copyboard takes Mylar copyboards to a new level of productivity by adding a built-in interface for your computer.

Now the notes from your meeting can be down-loaded to your computer for easy storage, printing and e-mailing. Make copies of your meeting notes in seconds. The two-sided surface offers plenty of space to write information and encourage audience participation. With the push of a button the board produces letter size copies of the information written on the mylar surface. Features include an accessory tray for easy access to markers, durable casters and a built in printer. Uses standard 98' facsimile paper, included. Rotating Electronic Copyboards are an indispensable tool for well equipped conference rooms. If you need an interactive real time unit see our QO4000 series units.
